

POSTOFFICE CLERKS ENJOY BIG OUTING

Event at Chesapeake Beach Proves To Be Huge Success. Contests Exciting.

Nearly every clerical employee of the Washington City Postoffice and several thousand of their friends and well wishers made merry at Chesapeake Beach yesterday on the annual excursion of Branch 15, United National Association of Postoffice Clerks.

Fun features were provided for their amusement and it was the one big day of the year for the inside post-office men. The clerks had as their guests a number of officials of the city Postoffice and the Postoffice Department, and they were given royal entertainment.

Besides a special program of athletic and aquatic events, a special dance program by Miss Cora Shreve and her pupils was given on the dancing pavilion.

It was the first excursion of the Postoffice clerks to Chesapeake Beach, and it was a success in every way, the organization treasury being benefited beyond expectations. Two thousand persons went to the beach on early trains, spending the day, and as many more went down during the afternoon and evening.

Guests On Private Car.

The party of invited guests made the trip to the beach in the private car of President Jones of the Chesapeake Beach road, attached to the 2:30 train. In the party were Assistant Postmaster L. J. Robinson, Superintendent C. P. McCurdy, Granville Hunt, W. H. Haycock, C. B. Matthews, Frederick Sillers, and Frank Burrows, Carter B. Keen, director of the postal savings system; John C. Koon, and other officials. Major George L. Tapp, president of the association, was host on the car and at the beach and there was never a moment that there was not something doing.

At the beach a shore dinner was served on the veranda of the Belvidere for the guests, and in the evening they enjoyed the hospitality of T. A. Wick-ersham.

A baseball game between the senior Clarendon nine and a picked team of postoffice men, was the big athletic feature. The postoffice men were swamped in the game even though Jimmie Kerr and Buck Becker, former National League players, were in the lineup. Chicago down with one run, picked for them. Becker held the opposition to about two hits, but his support crumbled at critical stages.

After the baseball game a number of track events were held on the cinder path, being run off simultaneously with the swimming races. At the track events were fifty yards flat. The winners were:

Boys up to ten years old—First, Spaulding Peters; second, Alva Daughton.

Boys between ten and fifteen years old—First, Louis Millard; second, Joseph Wasney.

Girls up to twelve years old—First, Madeline Royal; second, Gertrude Boland.

Girls twelve to sixteen years old—First, Helen Royal; second, Rosa Friedrich.

Single ladies over sixteen years old—First, Miss Jessie Robert.

Married ladies—First, Mrs. H. B. Neff; second, Mrs. J. Evers.

Water Races.

Boys up to ten years old—First, Alva Daughton; second, Jack Lovell.

Boys between ten and fifteen years old—First, Louis Millard; second, Joseph Wasney.

Girls up to twelve years old—First, Madeline Royal.

Girls between twelve and sixteen years old—First, Aggie Covington.

Ladies, open—First, Rosa Freidberg.

Men, open—First, S. N. Clark.

Handsome prizes donated by Washington merchants went to winners and seconds in all of the events.

Just before the dinner bell sounded Miss Shreve and her pupils gave a special entertainment of songs and dances. The prize was a crown of the evening. The day was ideal at the beach, with a cool soft wind that piled the whitecaps up, and all the special entertainment features were run on schedule time. Major Tate and his committee assistants taking care that there was not a single slip.

The Home Beauty Parlor

Haute: Your eyes are weakened and over-strained, that's all. Don't let them frighten you into wearing glasses until you try this simple home treatment. Dissolve a ounce of crystals in a pint of water. One or two drops in each eye every day may be all you need to restore the sparkle, youthful brilliancy and rested feeling to your eyes. If the lids are much inflamed, try soaking dabs of absorbent cotton in the tonic and laying them on each eye while you rest about ten minutes. Crystalline tonic may be called an eye beautifier.

Judy: If ordinary methods fail to reduce your flesh I would recommend a course of this simple, harmless home treatment: Put 4 ounces of paraffin in 24 pints hot water. Take a tablespoonful three times a day. For those who find exercise a task, and are weakened by strict diet, I know of no such valuable aid in restoring excessive flesh. If your skin is inclined to flabbiness, use this answer to Deborah.

Curly-Locks: I am very much opposed to the use of soap on the hair. The alkali in soap causes hair to irritate the scalp and in time will make the hair follicles decay, neither do I approve of egg shampoo. The animal substance mixes with the oil in the hair and is hard to remove. After all, plain canthox makes the best shampoo. Cheapest and easiest to handle. Dissolve one teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. It lathers well and takes out all scales off, leaving the scalp stimulated and every strand clean.

OHIOANS LOOK N VAIN FOR WILSON

Tariff and Other Matters Keep President From Family Reunion in Steubenville.

If President Wilson were not so far from Steubenville, Ohio, or if the tariff-currency-Mexican situation were not so pressing, he might be attending a Wilson family reunion which is taking place today in that Buckeye State town.

The chief event of the afternoon program here was the unveiling of a portrait of James Wilson, the President's grandfather, who was at one time a Steubenville resident and ran a publishing house there for a time. One of the chief figures at the exercises was Mrs. Anna Wilson McCoy, a cousin of President Wilson, now living in Steubenville.

The occasion of the Wilson reunion, to which the President was invited, is the triple celebration for which Steubenville has long been preparing. Aided by thousands of citizens from neighboring counties it is today commemorating the building of Fort Steuben by an aide of Frederick William Augustus Henry Ferdinand Baron Von Steuben, during the Indian wars; the advent of "Morgan," the raider, in Ohio during the civil war; and the gift to the city of a relic of the battleship Maine just prior to the Spanish-American war.

It was hoped that the President of the United States would attend the triple celebration, which is being celebrated simultaneously. Mrs. McCoy said a few days ago that he might "drop in" on the city without prearrangement to greet the fellow-members of his family, but the other Wilsons are looking for him today in vain.

The celebration will continue tomorrow and every one of the fourteen monuments in Jefferson county, erected to commemorate the raid of General Morgan, will be formally unveiled. Col. Richard Morgan, a brother of the Confederate officer, is the guest of the city.

Reporter Finishes 22 Years on One Job

Thomas M. Harvey, reporter for the Evening Star, today rounded out twenty-two years' service for his newspaper at City Hall, and was the recipient of congratulations from his employers and others. He has "covered" all the big criminal cases in the local courts during the last two decades and knows every member of the bar.

Mr. Harvey is not a member of the Ohio Taxpayers' Association, his years of service being no criterion of his age. He said today that he felt just as young as he did twenty-two years ago today when as a cub he got lost in the big building.

Mr. R. Young, clerk of the District Supreme Court, has the distinction of being the only man at City Hall who he has seen longer than that has Mr. Harvey. He was a clerk when Mr. Harvey appeared on the scene.
